

Name(s) _____

Can you design, build, and test a model catapult that uses the force stored in a bent object to launch a marshmallow over a protective wall?

Engineering Design Process

Explain how the catapult was able to store energy to propel the marshmallow.

Describe the coolest thing you learned about catapults today.